The Sword on the Wall.

Yonder it hangs on the lonely wall—
The winds go singing around the eaves,
And the sickly sunbeams faint and fall
Aslant its sheath through the dying leaves.
It hangs at rest all the long, long day,
And the mournful shadows fall earliest there;
Above it a withered wreath of bay,
Below it—only a vacant chair.

The stars shine out o'er the upland pines,
On frosty meadow and foaming ford,
And their sad eyes look through the lattice vines
At the dull gray wall and that lonely sword.
It rattles sometimes, as the Autumn gale
Sweeps madly over the stubble land,
And the arrowy moonlight, wan and pale,
Falls white on the hilt, like a spirit-hand.

Oh, the sun shone fair when he rode away,
And the clover blossomed along his track;
Steed and rider and sword so gay
Went proudly out through the golden day—
Three—but the sword alone came back;
From the rivers of bright blood newly spilt,
From the hell of fire and the grapeshot's rain,
And the cold hand stiffened around its hilt,—
Lonely, the sword returned again.

There is rust, you see, on the shiny blade,
And the dinted scabbard, where blind, hot tears
Welcomed the glittering trophy, laid
To a quiet rest for the coming years;
Ah, the shriek of the shell and the cannon's ring
May still make music under the sun,
But the steel he loved—a listless thing,
Hangs yonder to-day, with its red work done.

So our voices sink to a whispered prayer,
As we turn to look at the dull gray wall,
And the bay, half withered, that rustles there,
As the winds at the lattice rise and fall;
And the swarthy clouds of the solemn night
Pour down their torrents, leaden and gray,
While we sit and dream, by the dying light,
Of a grave in the trenches far away.

Sleep, gallant dead, where the rank grass waves,
And the black creek sings to its rustling reeds,
We keep, afar from that place of graves,
The green, green memory of your deeds.
Oh, the sun shone bright when he rode away,
And the clover blossomed along his track;
Steed and rider and sword so gay
Went proudly out through the golden day—
Three—but the sword alone came back!

THE PRINTING OFFICE.—An exchange gives the following advice: Reader, if you want to make yourself very agreeable in a printing office, step into the sanctum first. If the editor is writing or proof reading, take a seat alongside of him, and tell him how you started in business, about your dog, your horse, your wife and baby, or if you can remember, your boyhood's sports. Should the editor manifest a disposition to be inattentive to your story, stick to it and go thro' with it. Should one of the compositors or "devil" step up and ask for "copy," whether the proof is read, or if either is done, you should, by all means, ask what the article is about, and insist on seeing it. Of course the editor will read it for you, and profit by your opinion as to its fitness to go into the columns of the paper. After thus entertaining the editor, step into the composing room and ask each one of the hands as many questions as to the cases, letters, etc., as may be agreeable to yourself. Then begin to whistle. All printers are fond of whistling. Give them at least three or four jigs. Then sing "Milwaukee" and "Ham Fat Man." Before leaving the office, you should take hold of the hand press, give it a pull and let it fly back, just to see how it works. Don't forget to squirt tobacco juice on the "devil's" feet, or to examine everything in the shape of matter on the stone, even if you knock some of it into pi—that will only put the patience of the printers to a fair test. On leaving the office be sure to promise another visit at an early day, and our word for it, you will be held in "fond remembrance" for a long time.

HAPPY FELLOW.—The local editor of the Danville (Va.) Times is the most contented man we know of. Hear him:

We are happy at being no more miserable—no wood, no money, snow three inches deep and more we fear coming, ink frozen, roller ditto, the devil with a bad cold, and our heels frost-bitten. We don't care a constitutional for the country; it may sink or swim; the probability now is it will freeze. Fact is, we've been out long in the cold, and don't know that we'd "stand treat" if Uncle Sam would offer to take us in. We are pretty much in the temper of the obstinate urchin who had kicked the kiver off, and woke his mammy in the night, crying out he was cold. "Well, pull the cover over you, Johnny," said she. "Thant do it" replied the youth: "durned if I don't freeze first!"

CAMP ANECDOTE.—A friend who has just returned from the camp on the Rio Grande, furnishes the following as the manner in which a Dutchman, who was on sentry, proclaimed the hour. The usual cry is "half past ten o'clock, and all's well." The Dutchman had forgotten the precise words, and sung out at the top of his voice, "More as den o'clock, and ail ish so petter as goot."

BROWN was asked by a young lady who had been dancing the German, whether he saw her feet. "No madam," he replied, with a solemn shake of the head, "far from it!"

The Future.

If anybody imagines that Radicalism is going to stop at Negro Suffrage or impeaching the President—this winter, even,—a perusal of Wendell Phillips' (double leaded) pronunciamento, will be apt to work in the reader a change of mind. The weaker (Radical) brethren will falter and hesitate a little at the start, as usual, but Wendell knows, very well—and we all know—that they will come up to his platform and "second the motion," before many moons wax and wane.

Now, what is his platform, and what is his motion? Both are as clear as the day—for this bold and persistent revolutionist is not in the habit of clothing his thoughts in rhetorical obscurations, as if he were afraid to avow them, or that the party with whom he is acting would not have sufficient "moral courage" by-and-by, to endorse them.—We can see then that it is ordained that—

First. Radicalism is never to have a stopping place in this country. It is to be eternally progressive and eternally aggressive. Its mission is to keep on pulling down things, and to prevent others from building up. Restlessness is the condition of its existence—and agitation, never ending agitation, the pabulum which is to supply it with power, strength, influence, and, if need be, terror.

Second. The impeachment and removal of the President. This is to be accomplished at all hazards. The verdict of the people at the recent elections, the Massachusetts demagogue tells us, is susceptible of no other interpretation. We do not argue that point with him; but if the conspirators in the Rump Congress proceed, on that interpretation and that advice, to execute that part of the programme, there is this much to be said: if greenbacks depreciate and gold advances, if fresh panics are created and new strife provoked, the people who rolled up the great majorities for the Radicals in the recent elections will have nothing to complain of. They were not left to grope in the dark.

"We must strike terror into the hearts of these people," said Danton to the Cordelier Club, when they were debating the probabilities of a Conservative Reaction against their brutal and bloody despotism. Wendell Phillips is a man after Danton's own heart. "Revolutions," he says, "never go backward." There is to be no Reconstruction, no Reunion, no Peace, nothing but change, excitement, turmoil and terror.—With the President out of the way, and some Senator Wade or Chandler, executing the functions of the Executive office in his place, the people will be as much at the mercy of the Rump Congress as ever France was in the days of the Central Directory—and as the Governors of the States are supporters of the Rump, Phillips and his friends have a clear field before them.

That is the prospect ahead, as pictured by "the man who furnishes brains for the Radical party." It is anything but an exhilarating one. It is not what we would have it, or would have had it, if the recent elections had taken a different turn. As it is, we can only contemplate it, at present, with something of the feeling of a passenger in a railway train, in charge of crazy engineers, dashing along at the rate of fifty miles an hour, towards a catastrophe, from which only the hand of a good Providence can preserve us.—[N. Y. Express.

A PRAYER.—A colored woman at Richmond made this quaint but genuine prayer: "O Father Almighty, O sweet Jesus, most glorified King, will you be so pleased as to come dis way and put your eye on dese poor mourners. O sweet Jesus, ain't you de Daniel God? Didn't you deliber de tree chilum from de fiery furnis? Didn't you heah Jonah in de belly ub de whale? O, if dere be one seekin' mourner here dis afternoon, if dere be one sinkin' Peter, if dere be one weepin' Mary, if dere be one doubtin' Thomas, won't you be pleased to come and deliber 'em? Won't you mount you Gospel hoss, an' ride roun' de souls ob dese yere mourners, an' say, 'Go in peace an' sin no moah?' Won't you be so pleased to come wid de love in one han' an' de fan in de odder han' to fan away doubts? Won't you be so pleased to shake dese yere souls over hell an' not let 'em fall in?"

MORE POWER TO YE CROSETTE.—The Butte Record is after that puffy Dombey, John Bidwell, with a sharp stick. Pursue him, Crosette, until you strip the mask that covers his sodden hypocrisy from off his face, and until you expose the utter emptiness of his inflated conceit and the woodenness of his mahogany dignity. He is a leather-headed humbug, and were he not rich would be unnoticed by the toadies who form his retinue of trumpeters. California and California's small farmers will rue the day that he is made Governor of that State. His size and his money and his galvanized demeanor are his entire capital. If Crosette don't let the saw-dust out of his great stuffed hide, we don't know who may succeed with the job. —[Carson (Nev.) Appeal.

A COUNTY in Wisconsin, it is reported, will send specimen shingles to the Paris Exposition.

THE French Government expect to have 450,000 needle guns by the middle of next May.

AFTER THE GUILLOTINE.—Four men were executed by the guillotine at Brest. The evening before the execution every medical man in Brest received an invitation from Dr. Duval, Director of the Board of health, to meet him in the ampitheatre of the hospital at six on the following morning. Precisely at that hour all the men of science belonging to that city assembled around four dissecting tables covered with white cloths.

As the clock struck, the four culprits were ushered into eternity. At 6:20 the hospital van was seen to cross the court of the Pupilles de la Marine at a hand gallop, and in a few seconds four lifeless trunks were thrown on the dissecting tables, precisely eight minutes after they had ceased to exist. The sight was indeed startling. The bodies appeared shrunk to the size of that of a child—the neck utterly disappeared, and in its place a frightful gaping wound. Next to the bodies, rolled up in napkins, were four livid heads. The work of dissection commenced instantly. The nerves quivered, and the flesh was real warm. The contractibility of the heart was proved, as well as in the aorta, where sensitiveness was extreme. The contractability was manifested on simply touching the part, and, of course, was still more apparent when subject to the electric currents. The muscular contraction was so intense that even after twenty minutes, one of the doctors, on applying an electric current, made the four heads grimace, in the most horrible manner. A pencil was placed between the teeth of one; it was bitten through and smashed as though it had been made of glass.

WHAT A BEETLE CAN DO.—The possibility of a great change being introduced by a very slight beginning, may be illustrated by a tale which Euckman tells of a vizier, who having offended his master, was condemned to perpetual captivity in a lofty tower. At night his wife came to weep below his window. "Cease your grief," said the sage; "go home for the present, and return hither when you have procured a live black beetle, together with a little 'ghee' (or buffalo's butter,) three cells—one of the finest silk, another of whip-cord; finally a coil of stout rope." When she came to the foot of the tower, provided according to her husband's commands, he directed her to touch the head of the insect with a little of the 'ghee,' to tie one end of the silk thread around him, and to place him on the wall of the tower. Seduced by the smell of the butter, which he conceived to be in store somewhere above him, the beetle continued to ascend till he reached the top, and then he put the vizier in possession of the end of the silk thread, who drew up the packthread by means of the silk, the small cord by means of the pack-thread, and by means of the cord a stout rope capable of sustaining his own weight; and so, at last, escaped from the place of his duress.

REVIVALS.—Revivals are multiplying all over the country, says a western paper, and christians are becoming more active in their great work—so at least say our religious exchanges.

In this city the work for souls, from appearances, is not attended with signal success, although many good practical christians are battling with singleness of purpose for the desired end. The trouble is, the temptations in all the western cities, leading men to vices, are too many, and the good work is thereby stripped of its fruits. The old English verse, written over two centuries ago, is strikingly applicable at the present day:

Wherever God erects a house of prayer,
The Devil always builds a chapel there;
And 'twill be found upon examination,
The latter has the largest congregation.

A MINISTER of the Kirk of Scotland once discovered his wife asleep in the midst of his family on the Sabbath. So, pausing in the steady and possibly monotonous flow of his oratory, he broke forth with this personal address, sharp and clear, but very deliberate: "Susan!" Susan opened her eyes and ears in a twinkling, as did all other dreamers in the house, whether asleep or awake. "Susan! I didna marry ye for your wealth, since ye had nane; and I didna marry ye for your beauty—that the hail congregation can see; and if ye have no grace, I have made but a sair bargain."

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY.—The Lord Mayor of London, a Jew, ruling over a Christian city; King Leopold II, a Protestant, ruling a Roman Catholic people; Saxony, a Protestant country, ruled by a Roman Catholic; Rothschild, a Jew, lending money to the Pope; a man of Hebrew birth being Chancellor of the Exchequer and leader of the English House of Commons; and the Catholics of Ireland banqueting the Quaker John Bright.

A VETERAN TYPO.—John Saxton, senior editor of the Canton (Ohio) Repository, who is now in his 75th year, set type on the President's Message from 8 o'clock until midnight, in that time setting up 3,500 ems. The old veteran has published his paper continuously for the period of nearly 52 yrs. He has helped to produce every issue of the paper from the time it was started, in 1814, till the present time.

IT is estimated that $800,000,000 of pure gold has been extracted from the mines of California within the last eleven years.

SERMON TO NEGRO SINNERS.—The West Alabamian reports the following sermon of a colored preacher, who rejoices in the title of "Major:"

And now, my dear, dyin' and remortal bredren and cistern, lem me tell you dare is great trouble now in dis land—and you say what am it? O, my dear young gemmen and my dear young cistern, and my dear Christian friends, dare am trouble for you and me, and de lord only knows how dat am to end. What am dat trouble, Maj? why don't you tell dis dear remortal congregashun-ah, what dat trouble is-ah? Well, I tell you-ah—my young friends and my old friends-ah, of dis trouble which am on de land-ah. We am now differently situated from what we was a year ago-ah. Every black man and woman must take care of demselves—ah. De trouble am about homes. Some ob you got none now-ah. No place to keep your old bald heads from de rain-ah, and when de winter comes, cistern, no whar to cover de little ones from de storm-ah.

Some ob you got sorter homes now, but no tellin how long you gwine to stay dar—ah. Oh! de little ones hab died in the cold, in some place, for want ob a piece of corn bread-ah. Dis am part ob de trouble—ah. But den dare is de fine young lady—no missus to tell her to do right—she go and hire herself out, away from her folks and her mammy-ah. How many snares dar am to lead her away from de paf of rectitude; and so de poor fools wander roun' from piller to pos, and from pos to poses-ah, and if you don't mind de debbil get your neberlastin' neber dyin' soles-ah. And dar is dat fine young nigger man, lofin about doin nofin, pitchin waits on Sunday, breakin de holy Sabbaf day-ah; pitchin waits jest bekase you see de white folks pitchin dollars afore de grocery-ah. Yes, I knode a white man to pitch dollars till he got so poor he had to borrer a dollar to pitch, and den he run out credit dat way, and he hab to come down to old hoss shoes. Take care, young nigger, de old debbil is no specter of pussons—he'd as soon hab you as a white man—you make as good a fire in hell as the biggist, fatest white man in the land-ah.

RETALIATION.—Some few years since, in the county of Penobscot, Me., there lived a man by the name of H——, whose greatest pleasure was in tormenting others. His own family were generally the butt of his sport. One cold and blustering night he retired to bed at an early hour, his wife being absent at a neighbor's. Some time after, she returned. Finding the door closed, she demanded admittance.

"Who are you?" cried Mr. H.

"You know who I am. Let me in; it's very cold."

"Begone, you strolling vagabond! I want nothing of you!"

"But I must come in."

"What is your name?"

"You know my name—it is Mrs. H."

"Begone! Mrs. H. is a very likely woman. She never keeps such late hours as this."

"If you do not let me in, I will drown myself in the well," Mrs. H. replied.

"Do, if you please," replied the husband.

She at that time taking up a log, plunged it into the well, and retired to the side of the door.

Mr. H., hearing the noise, rushed from the house to save, as he supposed, his drowning wife. She at the same time slipped in and closed the door after her.

Mr. H., almost naked, in turn demanded admittance.

"Who are you?" she demanded.

"You know who I am. Let me in, or I shall freeze."

"Begone, you thievish rogue! I want nothing of you here."

"But I must come in."

"What is your name?"

"You know my name—it is Mr. H."

"Mr. H. is a very likely man. He don't keep such late hours."

Suffice it to say, after keeping him in the cold until she was satisfied, she opened the door and let him in.

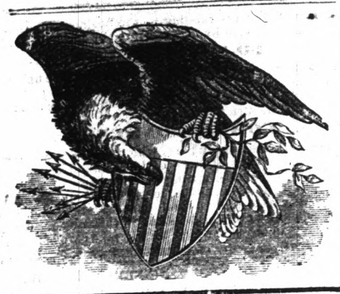

TIMELY CAUTION.—An old Scotch lady had an evening party, where a young man was present who was about to leave for an appointment in China. As he was exceedingly extravagant in his conversation about himself, the old lady said when he was leaving, "Tak' gude care o' yoursel' when ye are awa'; for mind ye, they eat puppies in Chena!"

OUTWITTED.—Recently, in Sonora, the Constable approached an Indian who had imbibed too much "fire water," and asked him where he had obtained his whisky. "How much you pay, me tell?" said the "noble red man." The Constable informed him that he would give him two dollars and a half, when the Indian replied in an indignant tone, "Ugh! you git! Columbia man pay five dollars."

QUINCY, PLUMAS CO., CAL.

SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1867.

Subjugation of States.

Some of the Radical papers in this State—particularly the Jacobin Marysville Appeal—are already gloating over the probability that the Southern States are to be reduced to the condition of territories, and held in abject subjection by the Rump Congress. They see in this event the consummation of their long-cherished wishes, not only of political vengeance against the South but of a radical change in our form of Government—a change from a Federal Government of limited to one of unlimited powers. In glorifying over such a result, they have the unblushing effrontery to declare that such is the will of the people. Had the Radical leaders, at the commencement of the war, boldly announced their object to be what they now openly acknowledge, instead of solemnly professing, as they did, that their sole purpose was to enforce the Constitutional authority of the Federal Government over the territory of the United States, and to preserve the Union,—their suppliant appeals for soldiers would have been comparatively unheeded. But our boys in blue implicitly believed their asseverations, responded to the call, and honestly supposed that they were imperiling their lives in defence of the Constitution or Union. They supposed, also, after years of much hardship and many a hard-fought field, when the Confederate forces laid down their arms and acknowledged defeat,—that the object for which they had so long contended and bravely fought, was accomplished—that the Union was preserved. These Jacobin Radicals, however, now pretend that those brave defenders of our country were mistaken—that the Union was dissevered, and that it is their peculiar province, in Rump assembled, to "reconstruct" the shattered political fabric. To effect that purpose, they are about to commence by reducing to political serfdom the inhabitants occupying one-half of the area of the United States! Such is the condition of affairs at this moment of Radical misrule and attempted despotism.

God save the souls of those revolutionary Radical leaders, for it is extremely doubtful whether all the force and vigor of the Constitution and laws,—both of which they have so long trampled under foot—will suffice to save their bodies from the righteous indignation of the people, when they arouse from the stupor of indifference, and fully comprehend the doom which the Dantons, Marats and Robespierres of Radicalism are preparing for our beloved country.

POLITICAL WISDOM.—That profound political philosopher, the Manager, (under St. Stephen) of the Radical party in Plumas, in the last issue of "the organ," dogmatically propounds the following doctrine of Constitutional law for the instruction of tyros in such questions:

"A State of the Union may Constitutionally lose its existence as such; but there are only two ways in which this can be done: 1st, by an amendment to the Constitution unanimously ratified abolishing State distinctions, and 2d, by a forfeiture of Constitutional rights as a consequence of disregard of Constitutional obligations."

We have but little comment to make on the above, as the good sense of the community will at once repudiate such doctrines, even though promulgated ex cathedra.

1. An amendment to the Constitution, abolishing State distinctions, would destroy that instrument itself, as the Constitution is simply a compact between the States. An amendment to the Constitution abolishing the Constitution, therefore, would be an utter absurdity.

2. A disregard of Constitutional (Federal) obligations by a State, can have no effect upon the integrity of the State itself. If it destroys anything, it must be the compact between the States.

If the theory of the organ be correct, all of those States which passed what are known as the "personal liberty" laws—clearly nullifying a plain provision of the Constitution, and thereby "disregarding their Constitutional obligations,"—committed State suicide, are no longer in the Union, and are therefore not entitled to representation in the present Rump Congress. Does the gentleman from the "Territory of Ohio" see the point?

DESPOTISM.—The approaches of despotism, in times past, have usually been slow and insidious; but in this "fast" age, its march is rapid, bold and defiant. The truth of the last clause of this proposition is fearfully exemplified by the present aspect of political affairs in this "free and enlightened," "model republic"—this "asylum of the oppressed." Will this march of despotism continue to be onward and victorious? or will it meet with a Waterloo, a Solferino, or a Sadowa? We shall see.

LUXURIES.—The fortunate inhabitants of Los Angelos, it is said, have been luxuriating on strawberries and green peas, ever since Christmas last.

Government—Its Object—Its Perversion—Our Duty.

Do the mad destructives, who now hold control of Congress, ever reflect upon the nature of Government? Do they really recognize its grand origin, or appreciate its noble purpose? Do they, in fact, regard it in any other light than as a means through which to reach some individual ambition, or to gratify some base partisan end? Do they realize the great fact that Government is as indispensable to man, whether in a savage or civilized state, as the air he breathes or the food upon which he subsists? Do they understand the elements of human nature from which this fact springs? The intelligent and unbiassed observer of passing events must answer these important questions in the negative. Judging the Radicals by the acts and declarations of their leaders, one is forced to believe that, as far as in them lies, they have cut the Ship of State loose from its moorings, and turned it adrift upon a sea of passion and prejudice, without rudder, chart, or compass. Under this state of facts, a few moments cannot be better employed by the people—by the artisan, the farmer, the miner, the common laborer—by the toiling millions for whom this Government was instituted, and for whom it must be preserved and perpetuated, than in going back to first principles, and examining the foundations upon which our glorious governmental fabric was reared. They are simple and easily understood, and are found in man's social nature. It is an incontrovertible fact that society is indispensable to the development of those godlike traits which raise him in the scale of being so much above the level of the brute. But society could not last a day without some general controlling or restraining power, for the reason that man is selfish as well as social. Each has a greater regard for his own safety and happiness than he has for that of others; and this feeling, coupled with his revengeful and jealous passions, tend constantly to drive him into individual conflict with his fellow man. Hence arises the necessity for instituting some power to shield society from these evils and insure to mankind the peaceful enjoyment of life, liberty and property. This power, in whatever form exercised, we call Government. It may seem rude and inefficient when organized by the savage, or terrible and oppressive when wielded by despots. But it is in all cases instituted by the people for the sole purpose of restraining vice, promoting virtue and intelligence, and rendering them secure, prosperous and happy.—But we find that there is an universal tendency in all governments to pervert their powers from this sacred purpose. In other words, the experience of all mankind teaches that Governments need protection from certain evil tendencies, as much as society needs the protection of Government from the evil passions of individuals. Why is this? It is because the powers of Government cannot execute themselves. They have to be administered by men with natures like all other men—selfish, ambitious, revengeful and jealous,—and consequently prone to regard with more solicitude their own interests and aims than the general good of those over whom they are called to rule, and who will, if permitted, sooner or later pervert the whole powers of Government from their original purpose to the promotion of individual, partisan, or sectional ends.

It was the perversion of the powers of Government, that consigned the grand Roman Empire to the tomb of the dead past. Ancient Greece, once the pride and glory of the world, became a prey to soulless ambition and perverted laws. Perversion of the powers of government has caused the once powerful Poland to be blotted from the map of Europe. The perversion of the powers of government has for three hundred years wrung the blood from the heart of 'poor old Ireland," until her national life is almost extinct, and the spirit of her noble sons almost broken. Some ninety years ago it stretched its remorseless hand across the Atlantic, and attempted to enslave three millions of American freemen; and it is but this fell spirit which renders the whole history of the human race hideous with blood, carnage and ruin. The wise and patriotic founders of this Republic of ours, fully imbued with these great truths, drawing from their own bloody experience and the unmistakable lessons of all history, sought to fortify themselves and their posterity against similar calamities, by means of a written Constitution. They sought to define and distribute the powers of their Government so as forever to prevent its perversion from the grand purpose for which they ordained and established it. The Legislative and Executive branches of the Government, though in a great measure independent and co ordinate, are made to act as a check one upon the other; but being elective, and consequently liable to be swayed more or less by great popular excitements, the Judicial department was placed beyond the reach of these influences the better to check the other two, and hold them to the letter of the Constitution. As to how well the statesmen and patriots of 1787 accomplished their purpose, let eighty years of the history of the United States answer.

Shall we stand by the helm, and steer by the Chart they gave us? or drift out upon that sea of anarchy, in which so many ships of State have hitherto foundered? These are the grave questions of the hour, which every American citizen should deeply and candidly consider—questions which should rise high above party fealty, party success, or individual prejudices. They lie at the very foundation of social order. And tho' this or that party may keep the ascendency for a short time during the struggle, all history teaches that in the end, if we permit the guards with which the Constitution hedges in our liberties and our rights to be disregarded and broken down,—all must be ingulphed in one common ruin!

THE School money appropriated to Butte county is $5,916 80.

Telegraphic Summary.

There are four reconstruction [destruction] bills before the H. R. That of the Recon'n Com. is to establish Military Gov'ts in all the S. States. Kasson's is nearly the same. It proposes to govern the South by the articles of war, when necessary. Banks' proposes to appoint three Commissioners to organize a civil government, with intelligence as the basis of suffrage. Elliott's, which originally applied only to Louisiana, was amended by the House, 113 to 48, so as to make it applicable to all the Southern States. It provides for a Territorial Governor and Provisional Council of nine members to be appointed by the President with the advice of citizens of the State not disqualified by participation in active war during the late struggle. The Gov., with the consent of the Council, to appoint officers to hold until an election on the first of June next. It makes every male citizen of the age of 21 years, white or black, who can take the test oath, a voter after one year's residence; all persons who cannot take the oath, but can furnish proof that they never voluntarily countenanced the rebellion or served except as private soldiers, shall also be entitled to vote. A registry law is to be established, rules for which are to be provided by the Sec. of War, and authority given to the military for the enforcement of the same. Elections are ordered in October for members of Constitutional Conventions, the Constitutions formed by which must be so framed as to recognize the supremacy of the Federal Government, the perpetuity of the Union, and guarantee equal political rights without prejudice to color or race. All laws passed by the Council are to be subject to Congressional approval. [Such is an outline of the damnable bill which, it is said, will undoubtedly pass the Rump. If it does, and is acquiesced in by the American people, the form of government bequeathed us by our revolutionary fathers will have been destroyed, and Constitutional liberty will have ceased to exist in what was formerly the Union of American Sovereign States! Are the people prepared for—"educated up to"—such a condition of political affairs?]....Stevens' Military bill was warmly discussed in the House, on the 14th. Stevens said it was not a reconstruction measure, but simply a police bill. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, urged the necessity of passing the bill before the Supreme Court should declare that the Southern States were in the Union and entitled to all their right as States,—in which event nothing would remain to Congress except to accept that conclusion as binding, or else to enter into a dangerous controversy with the judiciary. He wanted Congress to keep in its own hands the political reorganization of the States. The bill passed, 109 to 55....The Mexican Legation discredit the report of the defeat of the Juarez army....The Senate of old Brownlow's Legislature has passed the nigger suffrage bill to a second reading, refusing to strike out the clause forbidding negroes to sit on juries or hold office....The late London reform demonstration was a great success. The American, French and Italian flags were carried, and the legations of those countries cheered. All the members of the procession took off their hats as they passed the American Embassy. Among the banners were "Taxation without representation is fraud," and "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."....The fifty million Mexican loan proposition has been unanimously rejected by the Congressional committee, who had that subject under consideration, owing to the unsettled condition of affairs in that [our?] country....George Bancroft has declined the Collectorship of Boston....It was reported at Washington, on the 15th, that the President had promised to accept the bill for the Military government of the Southern States, with the Blaine amendment, which provides for the admission of Representatives from any State which adopts the Constitutional amendment. Fessenden, of the Senate, it was said, would insist on the adoption of the amendment, and there was a fair prospect that it would prevail. Several leading Republican members of Congress held a protracted caucus on the night of the 14th, for the purpose of ascertaining whether a compromise might not yet be effected between the President and Congress, the result of which had not transpired....The cotton crop is estimated at two millions of bales, of 400 pounds each....The remaining portion of Table Rock, at Niagara Falls, fell recently....London dates of the 14th, state that the Government was advised of the landing of two ship loads of Fenians at Valentia. There was a rumor that they would attempt to cut the cable; also, that the Fenians at Killarney were marching towards Kenmore. There was renewed activity of the British troops....A rebellion has broken out in Paraguay, seriously threatening the power and life of President Lopez....A number of vessels have passed through the Suez canal.

HOW TO GET RID OF THE NATIONAL DEBT. There are twenty millions of people in the North. If each one of these would destroy a five-cent currency note daily, it would amount to a million of dollars in a day towards the removal of the National debt. If this were done daily for a year, it would diminish the debt by three hundred and sixty-five millions of dollars yearly, which is more than the whole internal revenue produces. We know a man who thinks it his duty to burn a five-cent bill every day on this account. It is less than the tax on a glass of whiskey.—[N. Y. Post.

WATERY.—Old Stockbower, a worthy Teuton of Shasta county, says the Red Bluff Independent, came up on the last boat, and tells the following story about the splendid site selected for the red-and-white, barber's pole-pattern State House: "De place is more as fehr feet deep in the vasser, unt de pig pizness men kit shkared, unt hire Gaptin Harrison, de Benicia pilotboat to come up dere mit his boomb and boomp 'em out, for fenif hoondred tollars a veek. Mine Got, vat a place for a Stadt Howse!"

ATTEND TO IT.—Voters of the 2d Supervisor's District: Are your names enrolled upon the poll-books of the precincts in which you reside? If you do not know positively that such is the case, it is your duty to go immediately to the Clerk of your election precincts, and see that your names are entered upon the lists. The Clerk is not compelled to enter your names, unless he chooses, or you apply to him for that purpose. It matters not whether your names are upon the Great Register or not, for the purposes of the coming election; but your names must be upon the precinct poll-books. Getting registered upon the Great Register, is not sufficient. Unless you are enrolled on or before the 9th of the present month, (March,) you cannot vote at the election, except by appearing before the Board of Registration and swearing to the reason why it was that your names had not before been entered. No name can be added to the list on the day of the election; neither can any person vote on that day unless his name appears on the poll list. Do not be disfranchised by your own neglect, but go at once and attend to the matter. Many think that if their names have been entered upon the Great Register, they are all right, and can vote. Be not deceived. Such is not the case.

There is no fee for registration, as some have supposed.

RETURNING SENSE.—Some of the Radicals seem to have a sense of the dangers to which the policy of the extremists is tending. The Nation says as follows, touching the recent Supreme Court decisions:

"We have commented elsewhere on the conduct of the court in embarking in a discussion on points which came in no way before it. But we hope this whole matter, grave and important as it is, will open the eyes of the public to the great danger there is that the breaches of law and of propriety into which over-zeal on behalf of the right [nigger-worship] now carries us may be one day used against us in defence of the wrong. [the rights of white men.] It is not very long since there was a majority [and is now] in the United States on the side of wickedness, [constitutional liberty,] and we may all live to see it again; if we should, we may have sore need, for our own protection, of all the force and traditions of the laws and the Constitution."

A REMINISCENCE OF 1861.—On the 22d of April, 1861, Secretary Seward wrote to Minister Dayton, at Paris, as follows:

"I need not further elaborate the proposition that the revolution is without cause; it has not even a pretext. It is just as clear that it is without an object. Moral and physical causes have determined inflexibly the character of each one of the Territories over which the dispute has arisen, and both parties after the election harmoniously agreed to all the Federal laws required for their organization. The Territories will remain in all respects the same, whether the revolution shall succeed or shall fail. There is not even a pretext for the complaint that the disaffected States are to be conquered by the United States if the revolution fails; for the rights of the States, and the condition of every being in them, will remain subject to exactly the same laws and forms of administration, whether the revolution shall succeed or whether it shall fail. In the one case, the States would be Federally connected with the new Confederacy; in the other, they would, as now, be members of the U. States; but their constitutions and laws, customs, habits and institutions, in either case, will remain the same."

'THE NAKED TRUTH."—Miss Sallie Hinckley, says a correspondent of the Alta, the reigning star at the New York Theatre, did a good thing the other night. It seems that Miss Sallie attended Brother Smyth's lectures on the Black Crook divinities; and so when she espied a scholarly and rather good looking elderly gentleman, with long hair and rather prominent chin, on the front seat at the New York Theatre, the other evening, she "knew her man." At the close of the scene, she sent an invitation to the Rev. Dr. Smyth to come round on the stage. If our information is true, the parson went round and shook hands with Sallie, whose Eve like appearance pleased him very much. Before leaving Dr. Smyth was introduced to the prominent ballet girls, who thanked him for having spoken of them so favorably in his recent discourse. It is understood that the parson promised to visit them at their homes. Verily, the time is coming when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together.

SILVER.—Four tons of Idaho silver ore are on exhibition in one room in the city of New York. One of the nuggets weighs three hundred pounds, and is worth $3,000.

Dr. P. Meredith, Dentist, office No. 132 West Sixth street, states as follows:

CINCINNATTI, October 1, 1863.

MESSRS. J. N. HARRIS & CO.—Gents,—About one year ago I took a cold which settled on my lungs. A violent cough was the consequence, which increased with severity. I expectorated large quantities of phlegm and matter. During the last winter I became so much reduced that I was confined to my bed. The disease was attended with cold chills and night sweats. A diarrhœa set in. My friends thought I was in the last stages of consumption, and could not possibly get well, I was recommended to try

Allen's Lung Balsam.

The formula was shown to me, which induced me to give it a trial, and I will only add that my cough is entirely cured, and I am now able to attend to my business as usual. Yours respectfully,

LOCAL ITEMS.

STILL THE SAME.—The past week has been but a continuation of the previous one, so far as the weather record is concerned,—snow and rain, rain and snow. It has been the most disagreeable spell of weather ever known in these parts since '49.

DISSOLVED.—As will be seen by a notice published in another column, the co-partnership heretofore existing between N. C. Cunningham and Henry Holthouse, at Taylorville, has been dissolved. Mr. Holthouse will carry on the business in his own name hereafter.

WILL MEET.—The Board of Registration of Quincy Election Precinct, will meet at the Court Room, on Monday, the 11th inst., to revise and complete the poll list for said precinct. Let every voter who does not know that his name is upon the Poll List—not the Great Register—attend the meeting and have his name enrolled.

SAD.—One night last week, Mrs. Helsup, who is living at Misenheimer's ranch, near this valley, went to sleep, with her little child, four or five month's old, lying beside her in the bed. Some time in the night, Mr. H. awoke, and thinking the child was unusually quiet, attempted to move it, when she found that it was dead. It had been smothered. The child was deformed at its birth, and had always been very weakly.

CAUSED BY THE SNOW.—One day last week a large tree fell across the dwelling house of Mr. J. Ball at Butterfly Valley, and left it a total wreck. Mr. B.'s family were in the house at the time, but fortunately escaped injury. They were compelled to move into the little cabin near by, formerly occupied by Mr. Massey. The roofs of two of Mr. Ball's hay sheds were broken down by the snow. The hay sheds of Mr. J. Cross on the Russell ranch in this valley, were also flattened out by the accumulation of snow on them during the recent storm.

EXPECTING IT.—The only arrival at the post office during the past two weeks, which bore any resemblance to a mail, came in on Sunday last. About a dozen papers and half as many letters, were brought through at that time. We have hopes that a cargo of mail matter will arrive today, and that the clerk of the weather will reorganize his machinery which operates on this section, so that hereafter he can "let up" once in a while, and give the mail carriers a chance to make a trip once a week or oftener.

CANDIDATES.—As yet, no move has been made by any party to nominate a candidate for Supervisor. Mr. Taylor announces himself as an independent candidate for that position, and so far has a clear field. We have heard of several men being named as candidates,—among them on the radical side are M. S. Aschheim, W. G. Young, T. J. True, O. D Peck and A. J. Weldon. A movement has also been suggested to have a people's candidate brought out, and among the names mentioned as candidates are J. W. Thompson, D. R. Cate, C. Laufman, J. C. Chapman and E. W. Judkins. Something will probably transpire in regard to the nomination before our next issue.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Monday last the little child of Mr. & Mrs. Alex Heckle, of Taylorville, aged about four months, was scalded so badly that it died the next day. The circumstances were as follows: A pot of soap was standing on the stove, when the large body of snow which was on the roof of the house slid off, the force of which shook the house and jarred the stove so that the pot of soap fell off upon the child, scalding it terribly. Its parents, in their terror at the accident, picked up the child and put it in the snow, doubtless thinking it would alleviate the sufferings of the little one, but it was taken with a fit, from which it never recovered, but lingered until the next day when its sufferings ceased. It was buried on Wednesday.

OROVILLE & QUINCY ROAD.—From the following, which we copy from the Butte Record, it will be seen that the citizens of Oroville and vicinity have at last got started upon the right track.—They have found out that "this road is of the greatest importance to Butte and Plumas counties." The citizens of Oroville have taxed themselves very heavily and expended a large amount of money to make the Dogtown road the road from Oroville to Indian Valley. We have no fault to find with them on that account, in fact, we admit their liberality and enterprise on the subject of roads, but opposition to Chico was the cause of it all. Had one half of the money which has been laid out in repairing that road been expended on this route, it would have been one of the best and greatest thoroughfares in the mountains. The Record says:

"A movement is on foot for the repair and improvement of the road between Oroville and Quincy. Subscription papers for this purpose have been passed around among business men, and a memorial numerously signed, asking an appropriation from the county. While this road is of the greatest importance to Butte and Plumas counties, it has received but little attention from the public. We hope that it may now receive a thorough overhauling, and be placed and kept in good repair. It is one leading to a rich mineral section, and accommodates a numerous thriving population. Our business interests demand that it should be made available to public use, and kept so."

A FAT OFFICE.—Who would suppose that it costs the Government more to maintain the Consulate at Honolulu than in any other place in the world? Yet such is the fact.—The Government is obliged to pay $80,000 per annum to keep its flag flying in the commercial metropolis of the Sandwich Islands! This is the way in which it is done: The Consul gets a salary of $4,000 per annum,—only $1,000 less than the Consul at Paris.—There is a Marine Hospital on the Island for American sailors. One hundred, or one hundred and fifty whalers call in the course of a year. The sailors go ashore and have a good time, sailor fashion. Many of them get sick, and have to be sent to the Hospital. The Consul has the letting out of the contracts for the maintenance of the Institution, and there is no such thing as competition in the bidding; hence $15,000 is a moderate quarterly expenditure, and so on. If our place hunters knew that so good a thing was lying at so convenient a point as Honolulu, what swarms of them would have precipitated themselves upon the State Department. I do not know, indeed, but that this notice may produce a temporary emigration from your shores, in a volume sufficient to excite alarm in the breasts of the timid.—Who, in search of fat foreign appointment, would ever pitch upon the Consulate to the little port of Honolulu? It is only in time, however, that the dainty morsels are found out. It took us fifteen years in San Francisco to ascertain that the best paying office in the State was the Justiceship of the Peace of the Third District.—[Cor. Alta.

REPUBLICANISM IN EUROPE.—Victor Hugo has written a letter on the insurrection in Candia. He says:

A cry reaches me from Athens. In the city of Phidias and Æschylus an appeal is made to me—my name is pronounced. What am I, to deserve such an honor? Nothing but a vanquished man. And who are they who call to me? The vanquished. Yes, heroic Candiotes, the fallen of to-day, you are the victors of the future. Persevere.—Even if you are prostrated you will triumph. The protestation of a dying agony is a power. It is an appeal to God, who crushes—what? Kings! Those mighty ones who are now against you—those coalitions of blind force and stubborn prejudice; those armed antique tyrannies, have, as their principal attribute, a remarkable facility of making shipwreck. The tiara is on the poop, the turban on the prow—the old monarchial ship is leaking. It is at this very hour foundering in Mexico, in Austria, in Spain, in Hanover, in Saxony, at Rome, and elsewhere. Persevere! You vanquished! Impossible! The insurrection suppressed is not a principle destroyed. There are no more faits accomplis; there is only right. Fact is never completed. Its perpetual incompleteness is the opening which is left to right. Right cannot be submerged. The waves of events pass over it. It reappears. Drowned Poland floats on the surface. For ninety-four years European policy has torn this corpse, and the world has seen its soul floating above the faits accomplis. Greeks of Candia, you have right on your side, and you have a reason. Why a Pasha should exist in Crete is beyond comprehension. That which is true of Italy is true also as regards Greece. Venice cannot be restored to the one without Crete being restored to the other.

UTAH TO BE ADDED TO NEVADA.—A correspondent of the San Francisco Times writing from Carson City, Nevada, says: "It is the rumor hereabout. I have not taken the pains to ascertain what grounds there are for the statement, but it is said that Stewart and Ashley have given it to be understood that Congress will annex the Polygamous territory to this abode of innocent virginity, if the Nevada Legislature will only signify it to be the wish of of the people of this State to have Mormondom attached thereto. There is one thing sure, it would either result in the breaking up of polygamy or the utter obliteration of the forms of Republican Government in the young and tender State; and, as the citizens are rather in favor of the ultimate accomplishment of the former, I, for one, am in favor of absorbing Brigham and his 'Holy Society.'"

CENTRAL PACIFIC R. R.—It appears that the impracticability of the present route is beginning to be understood at Washington. A telegram from that city states, that a resolution introduced by Senator Conness for the survey of a railroad route from the Rocky Mountains to the Sierra Nevada, created much talk among railroad men. It was regarded in some quarters as a confession that the Company will have to change the course originally determined upon.

KENTUCKY.—It is said that a proposition is before the Legislature of Kentucky to raise ten regiments of soldiers to defend the rights of the States, and subject to the call of the President.

The Quincy Union.

THE first gold found in the United States was on the Meadow Creek, Cabarrus county, North Carolina, in 1799. It was a nugget "the size of a small smoothing iron," and after some years of service to the finder as a "weight to keep the door open," it was sold to a jeweler for three dollars and a half. The locality where this piece was found has been profitably worked from that time to the present—sixty-seven years.

A SECOND QUINTIUS CURTIUS.—John Smith, a second Quintius Curtius, a citizen of Memphis, desirous of ameliorating the condition of the streets of his native city, is reported to have plunged headlong into the mud, leaving only the soles of his boots exposed, with the touching inscription in chalk, "Who will care for mother now?"

A FELLOW in Chilicothe, Ohio, undertook to steal a hog out of a pen. The other hogs attacked him in the rear, and took a nip from the seat of his pants. This attack on his rear caused him to retreat precipitately, considerably demoralized.

THE Washington Republican thinks that Radicalism "will soon run to seed." We hope not, says Prentice, for the seeds of that noisome weed are not wanted in this world.

SEMBLINS says an editor gets smaller pay for telling the truth than for anything else he does; hence, some, having an eye to thrift, do very little of it.

FLORENCE

Sewing Machines.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD!!

Highest Premium, Fair American Institute.

Highest Premium, State Fair of California, 1866.

It makes four different stitches, the lock, knot, double lock, and double knot, on one and the same machine. Each stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric.

Every Machine has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb-screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to stay any part of the seam, or fasten the ends of seams without turning the fabric.

Changing the length of stitch, and from one kind of stitch to another, can readily be done while the Machine is in motion.

The needle is easily adjusted.

Its motions are all positive; there are no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

It does not require finer thread on the under than on the upper side, and will sew across the heaviest seams, or from one to more thicknesses of cloth, without change of needle, tension, or breaking thread.

The only machine having a self-adjusting shuttle tension—the amount of tension always being in exact proportion to the size of the bobbin.

The hemmer is easily adjusted, and will turn any width of hem desired.

It is almost noiseless, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

No OTHER MACHINE will do so great a range of work as the Florence.

DR. CHARLES H. TOZER

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Northeast Corner Kearney and Jackson streets, San Francisco.

The Great Eradicator of Special Complaints, Formerly of Locke Hospital, London. Eight Years in Sacramento and The Last Four in San Francisco.

DR. TOZER'S experience is of forty years standing during that time he has met with unparalled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known

Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases which he is familiar; some, perhaps, will not be in place. The most formidable, the most destructive of all kind is Self-Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease, the whole system suffers in consequence. Were we here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that the afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints, and seek advice in time, thereby saving them a world of suffering: Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and an aversion to Genial Society, especially that of Females. These are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should any be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra.

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of the terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases,

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system, the constitution being restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease,

As it presents itself on this coast is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States or Europe, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those of you who have visited the two latter countries no doubt have seen the dreadful effects of it on both the native and foreign population. It requires altogether different modes of treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Ricord, Acton and Bostwick are of little account, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood. These facts I have learned by experience and think I can say without boasting, that I have seen more practice in those diseases than any other physician in California, dating as it does from 1849.

My Plan is Purely Vegetable,

Destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that there is no danger of secondary symptoms.

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, and diseases arising from the use of Mercury, Impurities of the Blood, cured in a short time by the use of VEGETABLE MIXTURES, known only to myself.

Ladies suffering from the Whites, Piles, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the Side, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Derangement of their Monthly Sickness and all other diseases that the female system is subject to, will find prompt relief by applying at my Institute, San Francisco, corner of Kearney and Jackson streets.

Deseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Suppression and Painful Menstruation, etc., have been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on DR. TOZER from delicacy or fear of exposure, as the Doctor is a man in whom you can trust, and all cases are treated with the utmost secrecy.

My Female (Monthly) Pills were never known to fail in giving relief in those cases for which they are recommended. To be obtained only at my Office. Price $5 per box, with full directions sent by mail or express.

Consultations Free. All communications strictly confidential, and a cure guaranteed in all cases.

Address, C. H. TOZER, M. D., San Francisco.

A Grateful Acknowledgment to a Skillful Gentleman.

SACRAMENTO CITY, June 1, 1865

Dr. Chas. H. Tozer—Dear Sir: You will excuse me for not writing to you sooner. You will please remember me as the individual who called on you for assistance about a year ago. The roof of my mouth had completely rotted out, and my palate dropped down and there remained, stopping up the passage so that I could hardly eat. You remember you cut it out at once, which relieved me immediately, and I was enabled to swallow my food, and in a short time began to improve. I took your medicine and followed your directions for several months. You finally succeeded in stopping the disease saving my nose and upper lip, though you frequently cautioned me about losing it. I continued to improve until you finally recommended me to go into the country, and before going, by your advice, I had a cast taken of my mouth, that I might have a plate made for me to enable me to speak so as to be understood, and am now using it. My eternal thanks are due to you for the perseverance and skill that you displayed in my case; and I have to thank you for my restored health and even for my life, as I was very near bleeding to death several times from the nose. I am now in Sacramento City, enjoying good health, and I shall recommend all my friends to call on you, should they be so unfortunate as to require assistance; and I would advise all persons to avoid certain scientific doctors in your city, for they will send them to a land from whence no traveler returns.

With my best wishes for your success, I remain, yours, etc., S. S. T.

PRIVATE

MEDICAL AID.

Quick Cures & Moderate Charges.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute

Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co's office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street. SAN FRANCISCO.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific Medical aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy, and all sexual diseases.

TO THE AFFLICTED.—Dr. W. K. Doherty returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for the patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private Diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse Gonorhoe, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the back and loins, Inflamation of the Bladder and Kidneys, &c., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice, will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, has references of unquestionable veracity from men of his own respectibility and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise will receive the best and gentlest treatment and most delicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates, from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public.

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity and they are given more to warn the unfortunate than to sound the praises of a Physician, of which hundreds of like cases can be cited, during a practice of more than fifteen years.

CASE OF GLEET AND STRICTURE:—

Dr. Doherty—Dear Sir: I feel my health fully restored, that in common gratitude, I owe I should make some written acknowledgment for your valuable services—particularly so as your fee was small for the work performed. I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, as the result of having from an old case of Gleet, indicate a stricture. Being a stranger in the city, and believing those doctors who gave positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, one of whom have a large number of testimonials, I placed myself in their charge and continued their treatment until I had lost nearly all of my considerable sum of money. I wish to say that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed and the only one that has ever done me service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the stricture all removed, and my general health is better than it has been for years. In conclusion I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address, and call and see me, (I keep store in this city.)—experience may save you many dollars. I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorhoe, Gleet, &c., but never derived any benefit from them. I am, Doctor, very truly yours. L—— H——

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—A sworn to certificate of a most remarkable cure of Spermatorrhœa—A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience in that year, however, I had Seminal weakness to an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptoms, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory my ideas were confused and spirits depressed, I was averse to society, had evil forbodings and self-distrust and was entirely unfit for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief, I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr. Doherty's advertisement I thought I should call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty, at his office in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determined to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th day of December last I placed myself under his care; in one week, I found myself very much improved, and now, after five weeks treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles, and in the enjoyment of the best of health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself

TO FEMALES.—When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility vaginities, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other Physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful suffering and premature death. All married ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible. If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the cases itself, (including the remedies) will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted. Consultation—FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Address,

W. K. DOHERTY, M. D.,
San Francisco, California.

MEDICAL INSTITUTE!!

ESTABLISHED BY

DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850.

536 Washington Street,

Below Montgomery,

SAN FRANCISCO.

Consultation by letter or Otherwise, Free.

IT WOULD BE EQUALLY USELESS AND UNNECESSARY to enumerate here the Diseases cured at the Institute. All classes of Complaints are treated; but I consider it my duty to mention those of a special nature, as upon such the unfeeling and irresponsible quack dwells, with phrases well calculated to deceive those ignorant of the emptiness of his profession.

First among the special complaints is

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may asperse my motive; but the desire to point out to those who suffer languish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell, but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; languishing feelings; loss of muscular power; nervousness; irritability; cold feet and hands, accompanied by hot head; symptoms of consumption; short breath flushings of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of memory; nightly emissions; colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart; irregular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may secure health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the slighest degree, you have the seeds of the weakness in your system, and the undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its great danger; for while the patient is being treated for some supposed affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive Functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye!

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights succeed days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume sudden changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspiration.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion, suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hopes of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepit and degenerate.

AN UNSOLICITED

TESTIMONIAL OF CURE.

Let all who are afflicted with Seminal Weakness read the sworn-to-Certificate, first published without the Doctor's knowledge. A remarkable case.

[Revenue stamp.] This is to certify that I was afflicted with Seminal Weakness to a degree that brought on seven fits. The trouble commenced about three years ago, when I first learned that the practice of self-abuse was ruining me. I first had nervous trembling of the limbs, pains in my back, and trouble in my mind, a confusion and loss of memory, and other debilitating symptoms of seminal weakness. I gradually grew worse and worse until finally the Fits came on. At first I only had a momentary loss of mind a distress. This grew worse, until in a short time, I would remain in a confused state—for some after I had them in my sleep I was satisfied that I must be cured, or I would perish miserably in one of the attacks that now became as frequent as twice or three times a day, seeing me without warning and prostrating me to the earth, where I would remain for an hour insensible. I lost all recollections of persons and things. I could remember nothing for two minutes, but my great sufferings. I swallowed box after box of patent nostrums. Nothing did me good. In despair of ever being well I prayed for death. But I was not to die, for help was at hand. My friends visited the Dr. J. C. Young Institute, and I was placed under the care of Dr. Benj. F. Josselyn. I very soon experienced a change. I grew better and better. I could go to work. My mind became clear. The Fits grew lighter. I was soon perfectly free from them, and now for over two months, I have not experienced them at all. All the symptoms of seminal weakness are gone, and I feel as well as I ever did. It is to DR. BENJ. F. JOSSELYN, that, under God, I owe my life, and from the gratitude I owe him, I give this, my testimony of his skill and success. If this should induce any one unfortunately afflicted with Seminal Weakness to submit their case to him, I shall feel that I have, in part at least, paid the great debt I owe. BENJAMIN BROWN. [Seal.]

[Revenue stamp.] Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of December, 1864.

[Notarial seal.] W. O. ANDREWS, Notary Public.

IMPORTANT TO PERSONS

afflicted with Venereal: There are no maladies worse than those arising from the contamination of venereal poison. None are more terrible in their effects, or more disastrous in their results. After upwards of twenty years' practice in diseases of a private nature—fifteen of which have been in this city—I unhesitatingly declare that Mercury will not cure Venereal, but dries it on the surface, to allow it to poison the blood, to re-appear in hideous marks upon the body, and in the throat, mouth and nose: Those who have had any form of Venereal, and were treated with Mercury were not cured, but they still have the festering virus lingering in the system and feeding upon the delicate tissues to be communicated to the wife or transmitted to the children. As terrible as it is in the person who contracts it, it becomes of still greater importance when transmitted to innocent offspring, whose sore heads, cankered mouths, diseased limbs, running eyes and blotched skin are the constant reproaches to the sins of the parent. Be warned in time and secure health by applying at the Dr. J. C. Young Institute.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration, without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cure always guarantied or no pay required.

Only purely vegetable remedies used.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society Will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathise with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter, or otherwise free. See address below.

The celebrated female remedies compounded from the private prescription of Dr. YOUNG, have now obtained a most extensive popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimony of efficacy declare them to be pre eminently superior in their action.

No lady should be without these renovating agents.

None genuine unless prepared at this office.

Sent by mail or express to any part of the State. The Great Female Medicine! PREVENTIVE POWDERS for married ladies. New, safe and infallible. lasting from four to six months. Price $10. FRENCH LUNAR, or Female Monthly Pills, for suppressions. After fifty years of use these pills stands unrivalled in efficacy. Price $5 per box

To Corespondents:

Persons in the interior are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time or incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen only by the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed. ☞ Consultation free!—Address thus—
